

archinfo

Welcome Back from hopefully a restorative spring break. I have it on good authority that the second year trip to Dallas was a resounding success with a full bite of architecture goodness. Our third year students are exploring the wet but never dull other Manhattan this week. For the rest of us, we have our Professional Advisory Board coming into town on Friday. Please come to the Ask an Architect Forum at noon on the east side of APDWest for some free pizza and the chance to hear the inside scoop on practice and maybe learn what not to do.

Have a great week.

Matthew Knox, AIA
Professor and Head
