CONGRATULATIONS LA FOR A GRAND 50TH!

Congratulations to the Landscape Architecture program's 50th Anniversary events this past week.

The 50th anniversary celebration kicked off with a dinner and LAart art auction at the K-State Alumni Center Foundation on Friday. The LAart auction raised over $4,465 to enhance professional development and academic support for LARCP students.

The celebration continued on Saturday with Landscapades, an annual event and primary fundraiser organized by the K-State Student Chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects. The event featured an exhibit of 50 years of landscape architecture student work, student pecha kuchas, tours of landscape architecture on-campus projects and a watch party for the K-State vs TCU football game.

Many thanks to the faculty, staff, alumni and volunteers for their time, talent and support for making this historic event possible. The celebration continues with the LA Exhibit in the Chang Gallery until November 21 and sale of the celebration book, Catalyst for Excellence: Fifty Years of Landscape Architecture at Kansas State University. Please contact Courtney Boman, cdboman@ksu.edu, for additional information.

ALL UNIVERSITY CAMPAIGN

APDesign Faculty and Staff:

According to the latest participation stats, only 65% of our college has participated in the All-University Campaign this year. This is down from last year's number, and lower than 2012. The AUC is an important resource for our college and an important tool in larger external fundraising efforts. Participation percentage, not dollar amount counts for this campaign and we want to put up a participation number that reflects our hard work and inspired involvement in our community.

IF YOU HAVEN'T GIVEN YET, please give before the campaign ends this Friday, Nov 14th. Giving to the campaign online is fast and easy...here's the link to the designation page, where you can click on our college to see the excellence funds listed:
<http://www.found.ksu.edu/auc/designation/colleges-and-programs.html>

REMEMBER that your support of the campaign will be rewarded with the following swag, courtesy of Dean de Noble.

- For a minimum donation of $10, APDesign Lanyard
- For a minimum donation of $20, receive an mug or T-Shirt.
- For a minimum donation of $50, APDesign Umbrella
- For a minimum donation of $100, receive a Moleskin or Padfolio. To claim your swag visit Thom Jackson to self-report your gift.

Thanks and be sure to remind your colleagues this week!

- Michael Gibson and Sharon Hartwich

PS: If you gave to the foundation after Nov 16th, 2013 (last year) this gift already counted towards this years AUC. Thank you!

- - Resources that Aerotek can Provide

Aerotek is a staffing leader specializing in engineering, aerospace and defense, energy, architecture, and environmental industries. More information can be seen at: <http://www.aerotek.com>

SAME (The Society of American Military Engineers) is a national professional organization started after World War I to retain a strong relationship between the architecture, engineering, and construction industries and the military, federal, state, and local government agencies in the interest of national security. Since so much of this work is done by the private sector, one does not have to be in the military, an engineer, or even an American citizen to join SAME or the KSU Student Chapter.

The Student Chapter of SAME here at K-State strives to link students of varying educational backgrounds with architecture, engineering, and construction organizations. The chapter also aims to bolster the professional development of our members and classmates through workshops just like this.

For current members of SAME, or those interested in becoming a member, please come at 5:00pm for pizza, other health food, and refreshments.

It is preferred, but not necessary, to RSVP Katie Burke at kstarzec@k-state.edu

Thank you, and hope to see you there.

Kansas State University Student Chapter, SAME

2014 APDESIGN RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

The 2014 APDesign Research Symposium is a forum to showcase upcoming and on-going graduate research in the College of Architecture, Planning & Design. Graduate students in the design of the built and natural environments are given an opportunity to showcase their research or research-supported design investigations.

The goals of the symposium are for students to develop their work into research posters and presentations, network with peers and faculty, share their research and receive guidance and feedback for future research endeavors.

The symposium is a two-day event hosted in Seaton Hall's Pierce Commons. Student presentations will take place between 10:30a.m. and 4:30p.m. Thursday Nov. 13th, and reconvene at 8:30a.m. on Friday Nov. 14th.

University of Washington Associate Professor Nancy Rottle will deliver the keynote talk Thursday Nov. 13th at 4:30p.m. Her research as Director of the UW's Green Futures Research and Design lab focuses on design, advancement and evaluation of green infrastructure. Rottle has led the design of numerous local and national award-winning projects including the Cedar River Watershed Education Center, Puget Sound Waterfront Stormwater Solutions, and Open Space Seattle 2100, a multidisciplinary planning process to develop a 100-year vision for Seattle's green network.

She is currently leading research on the Green Futures Lab's Biodiversity Green Wall, and co-directing the Regional Open Space Strategy for Central Puget Sound, including an interdisciplinary study to quantify the ecosystem services potentially furnished by regional open space conservation and enhancement. In 2014, Rottle was elected to the ASLA Council of Fellows.
