Landscape architecture, mathematics professors earn Commerce Bank and W.T. Kemper Foundation Distinguished Graduate Faculty Award

Professors Timothy Keane and Zongzhu Lin are Kansas State University's newest Commerce Bank and W.T. Kemper Foundation Distinguished Graduate Faculty Award winners.

Keane is a professor of landscape architecture and director of research, scholarly and creative activity for the College of Architecture, Planning & Design. Lin is a professor of mathematics in the College of Arts & Sciences.

The award honors Keane and Lin for their outstanding scholarly achievements and contributions to graduate education at the university. Each professor will receive a $2,500 honorarium. The awards are supported by the William T. Kemper Foundation and the Commerce Bancshares Foundation, and are coordinated through the Kansas State University Foundation and the university president's office.

2016 APDesign Alumni Honorees College of Architecture, Planning & Design honors four 2006 alumni

The College of Architecture, Planning & Design, or APDesign, at Kansas State University is recognizing five alumni for their success 10 years after their graduation from the university and APDesign programs.

The 2016 honorees are Corbin Keech, Chicago, IL; Drew and Melissa Marlow, Denver, CO; Katie Martin, Chicago, IL and Ryan McKay, Kansas City, MO.

The department or program from which they received their degree selected the honorees. They will visit Manhattan Oct. 27-28 to meet with students and faculty, participate in class and studio visits, and be honored at a luncheon. An exhibit of their professional work is on display in Seaton Hall's Chang Gallery through Nov. 18. The exhibit is free and open to the public from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

Students to present on-campus colloquium about travel experiences with MESA

This past year, landscape architecture students were provided an opportunity to apply for an award allowing them to explore a topic of personal interest in a location most appropriate for that topic. MESA, a Dallas, Texas landscape architecture office co-founded by alumnus Stan Cowan, '87, sponsors the Design Discovery Award. [\[FULL STORY\]](#)
